

Plan for Tomorrow Today.

Introducing eTourism Connect, Nov. 1-3, 2023, in San Francisco.

This will be a forward-thinking show that will propel destination marketers toward a bright future. Look for a focus on cutting-edge topics curated specifically to address new trends and challenges that await the industry. In addition to education, eTS Connect will include one-on-one appointments for leading marketers to meet with future business partners. The timing could not better, as eTS Connect falls at a perfect moment to reflect on an eventful 2023 while eyeing what the new year will bring.

The Details:

50 MARKETERS
Cost: $499 Before March 1

50 SUPPLIERS
